I also noted from the last hearing that you asked the very pertinent question of the Govern-ment officials, law enforcement officials who were testifying, which of the new powers that they had gotten post - 9 11 were helpful and important to them. And none of the powers that any of those wit-nesses listed - as Senator Feingold noted, not a single one of them included Section 215 or the others that we and other critics are ob-jecting to. So I think this, like RFRA, could be very constructively an area where there are common concerns and a meeting of the minds. Very quickly with respect to Chairman Hatchs second question, what are we asking for, that is laid out specifically on pages 15 to 16 of my written testimony. High among them is one of the modest reform measures that has been endorsed by broad bipartisan lead-ership, including on this Committee Senators Craig, Durbin and Feingold. What these provisions would do is return the law closer to where it was pre - PATRIOT Act, completely consistent with the testimony that you heard from the law enforcement officials at your last hear- ing. None of these modest reforms - not repeals - would interfere with the powers that they have said are necessary for them in order to protect us all from terrorism. So I very much appreciate this opportunity and look forward to continuing to work together constructively. The prepared...
