Reagan, of Texas: In the Senate of the United States, Thursday, January 5, 1888 Mr. Reagan, said: Mr. President: Mr. President: so much learning and ability have been displayed during past Congresses in the discussion of the provisions of the bill under consideration and of the principles involved in its passage that I can hardly hope to throw any new light on the subject; and yet I feel that it is due to the people of the State I in part represent that I should state some of the reasons why I will vote against its passage. Before entering upon a statement of these reasons I must say that so much of the purposes of the bill as look to the enlargement of common-school facilities, improved education, and to the increase of knowledge has my most hearty approval, and any measure to promote those purposes which would not involve a violation of the Constitution would command my support. While the Senator from New Hampshire [Mr. Blair], the author of this...
